DIRECTUM'S RECORD 2:06 1-2

And Holds Statlien Record of the World-Other Sporting

Charcaso, Sept. 15.—Never were so many trotting and pacing sensations developed in one day as the sport at Washington park gave turf history today, directum secured a four year-old record of 196% and the stallion record of the world; Flying Jib took a pacing record of 264 which squals Mascot's pacing record of the world. As a result of the day's world four more basis in the most day's sport four more heats in the most sensational trotting race of the year and the greatest the trotting turf has ever known were decided. Eight heats have so far been trotted in the free-for-all and the race is still unfinished. The race will be finished tomorrow. The wonderwill be linished tomorrow. The wenderful performance of the bay mare Alix which made a new race record of 207% yesterday was followed by four exciting heats today, two going to Don Leather's mare Pixley, who made 2:00% is the sixth heat, one to C. J. Hamiin's mare Nightingaie and one to W. H. Arms & Cu, a borne Lord Clinton.

Hulds West Lame. The great Wilkes mare Huida, which won two heats of the race yesterday, went so lame that she was today drawn out and it is believed she will never out and it is believed she will never start in a race again.

Directues, Monroe Salsbury's 4-year-old stallion, by Directum, in a race against time chipped a half second from his record and made a new mark for the stallion record of the world, doing the mile in 2004s. Flying Jib, another of Salsbury's string, started to beat his pacing record of 2004, and won a mark of 2004.

Mascot, whose mile in that time has

Mascot, whose mile in that time has about as the world's pacing record for the past year. The purse of $15,000 in the free-for-all has put the famous drivers who took part on their mettle. When it became known that Huida would not start, the race was conceded by more to Ally as about two heats. by many to Alix, as she had two heats to her credit. She was strongly played in the posts. What the race would have keen if she had not been crowded to the rais in the first heat is hard to say.

Pixley Was Set Back. The judges decided that John Dicker-son, Leathers' driver behind Pixley, had committed an unintentional foul. Dick-erson's mare finished first in the fast time of 2.11%, but was set back to last place for the foul and the heat given to place for the foul and the heat given to Lord Clinton. Alix was given a dangerous squeeze by Dickerson, the inside sniky wheel catching in the fence.

Geers' generalship landed Nightingale a winner in the seventh. From the rear he brought his mare across the track to the pole in the straight and out-trotted five horses to the finish, leading them all under the wire. As the race stands, all of the horses have trotted what amounts to two races in consecutive days, either one of which would average faster time than any race ever trotted. The summaries:

Cinicaso, Sept. 15.—The world's fair officials refused today to talk about the plan to keep the fair open until January I. They all realize that there is a general demand for more than six mouths of the show, but they have nothing to say about it until its legal existence has expired. President Highlotham said today that he did not believe the directors would congress to continue the time until January I. at Monday's meeting. "That will be an adjourned meeting and has other business before it," he said. "There has been no action on the part of the directory or any of its committees booking to a continuance as yet, and I don't know that there will be done or not. It may be run next summer. Certainly the buildings ought to stand for a couple of years, whether there is any fair or not, and I think they will."

Exposition Notes.

There is a shortage of $10,000 in world's fair accounts. Auditor Barrington's confidential clerk is now engaged in checking up the books.

WELCOME TO THE STORE OF

SPRING & COMPA

From the Great Trade Fountains of the World we have brought the Choicest Things, and they are here for Your Inspection.

A Veritable Museum of Liberal Arts

Such may our store be designated at the present time, excepting that everything seen here is for sale and at the most economical prices.

Thirty-six departments will be opened wide to the public this week with a general bearing down of prices.

The Time is Propitious. The Opportunity Exceptional. The Field Never Ending.

Put to flight that doubtful question about the new fall dress and purchase here; you'll never miss the trifling cost. Unlike some merchants we know if we're not waiting for the "storm to roll by." Just as impossible for this store to stand still as it was for Daniel Webster to keep back the crowds at Bunker Hill,

WE HAVE THE COURAGE

To present for this season's needs the most marvelous collec-tion of Dress Goods Novelties ever imported for a Michigan house. It will give us pleasure to show them to you, for we never tire of admiring them ourselves.

New Dress Silks.

Several entirely new shipments of Silks that have arrived within the past few hours will be opened early Monday morning. The week presents uncommon attractions, The silks are marvels of quality and width for the price. Exact names cannot be given in our limited space, suffice to say we have all the shades and makes for day and evening wear, including the most exquisite novelties.

The New Velvets

In a great variety of beautiful new shadings have reached our Silk Department. Always staple; never passe. Glance over the partial list of shadings.

Marine, Garnet, Electric. Saphire, Petunia, Ceil, Saul, Coral,

Magnolia, Watteau, Myrtle. Navy, Bergundy, Gobelin, Moulette, Gold, Mordone, Myrier, Boneal, Silver. Laurel. Coquelicot, Edison.

Black Goods

Are going with a double quick march. Fresh styles, new weaves, are plentiful, and ladies claim they fail to find anything in the city to equal our goods, both as regards fashion and low price. New Bengaline, new Armures, new Crepons, new Whipcords, new Crepe, new Camel's Hair, Gros D'Line, Diagonals, Berganese, Serges, Hop Sackings, Novelties of all descriptions.

Satin Duchesse

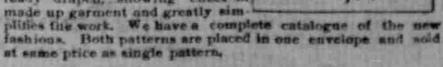

Are shown in small figures. Bro-cades are plain finish in all the new fall shades. A well posted linea man said recently: "Your prices on linens are no more than you'd pay in Belfast." Of course he's right; it's buying from first hands and importing direct that we are able to make such prices. For instance those big Huck and Damask Towels for which we ask you 21 cents this week can't be duplicated anywhere, for 30 cents. For 25 cents we will sell you a towel hemstitched, knotted fringe or plain fringe that will be good value anywhere for 35 cts. We might go on like Tennyson's brook, "forever" telling you of our attractions, but a personal visit is preferable.
